JESSE M. HAWKINS, Clerk Circuit Court Iron County, Mo.

Among the positions to be filled at the coming election, there is none that sits closer to the welfare of our people than that of Judge of the 21st Circuit. Its administration calls for keen discernment, unbiased judgment, and withal a mind wholly dominated with love of justice. The Judge must be "learned in the law," of course, but the other named qualities are as essential. Possessed of these, together with ripe experience on the bench, his displacement for a new and untried successor is a hazard not lightly to be considered. These are some of the reasons which lead me to urge the re-election of Judge Elbridge M. Dearing. For twelve years he has served the people faithfully and ably and diligently; careful in his decisions, courteous in his demeanor to laity and bar, but firm and dignified in his rulings and in the conduct of his office. There is no need of further rehearsing the causes favorable to his retention; he is known to every resident of the Circuit as pre-eminently fit for the arduous duties of a Judge swayed by neither fear, favor nor affection. To the fair consideration of his constituents all this may be submitted without doubt as to results.

Let all Democrats go to the polls on election day, regardless of how they feel toward Senator Reed. There ought to be no stay-at-homes or fishing parties the 7th of November. For the Supreme Court, Judges Walker, Ragland and White offer everything that is to be desired and their election means a continuation of ability and judgment in dealing out justice to litigants. Charles A. Lee, nominee for State Superintendent of Schools, is a native Missourian who has educated himself in such a manner that he is particularly well fitted for this place. His record is one of fairness to all and he will be an able man at the head of the state's schools. Mr. Lee will make a special effort to try to administer the affairs of the office without increasing the number of employees to unheard-of proportions. Vote for these men on election day and see to it that every other Democrat in the state does likewise and by so doing feel secure that success will crown the efforts of a party which has given the nation such men as Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson, Thomas H. Benton, Grover Cleveland, George Graham Vest, Francis Marion Cockrell, William Joel Stone and Woodrow Wilson. And there are the referendums; don't overlook them. The welfare of the State is in a great measure dependent upon the rejection of miserable, partisan legislation enacted by the Republican Legislature. Wipe it out by your votes!

While looking over a copy of The Rolla Times recently, we found the following: "Our good friend Judge John B. Scott, of the Probate Court, hale, hearty and active at 72 or thereabouts, attributes his well preserved condition to temperate habits and plenty of fresh air. The fresh air is in evidence always, for winter and summer alike, the windows and doors of the Probate Judge's office are wide open, admitting plenty of the health-giving ozone. The door, besides contributing to Judge Scott's health, also contributes to his pocketbook, for the marriage license clerk's office is directly across the hall from Judge Scott's, and by long practice the Judge is able to spot the coming wedding as soon as the principals enter the door way. Knowledge is power, and because the Judge knows the wedding is to be, and because the open door is so inviting, it very often happens that the Gay Lothario and his prospective bride stray into the Judge's office to have that distinguished gentleman splice the nuptial knot." Many of the readers of the REGISTER will remember John B. Scott as having been Principal of the Ironton schools, away back in the '80s, and was also County Commissioner of Schools for Iron county.

The teachers' program was interesting and instructive. The basket dinner was all that could be desired and the children's program in the afternoon was delightful. Our community was made sad Tuesday by the death of one of our dear relatives and neighbors, Mr. Jack Stricklin. He suffered for two weeks with typhoid fever. Just three weeks before his death he was called on to give up his sixteen year old son, Arnold, and there are four more of the children down, and two just able to be up and no one but the mother left to see after them. Very little hope for their recovery. May God bless and comfort the mother.
